Neighbourhood Planning Group

NPPF: The new government has proposed significant changes to planning in England, including a new methodology for calculating housing targets. In addition to the new housing targets (370k p.a) in the NPPF, there will be new towns, and there are many pitfalls involved with planning and building new towns.

Local Plan: Apparently Wiltshire Council received around 10000 submissions to the plan – many of them climate related. Adrian Temple-Brown gave impassioned 3 minute statements, starting at around 41:45 in; and the second at 1:30:04, at the Review last Tuesday, available here; with a simplistic and faux-outraged response by Cllr Dominic Muns about 4 minutes later

Still under development – the Neighbourhood Plan! There was an item on the Town Council's Community and Wellbeing agenda last week, but it was under confidential business, so we will never know what was discussed
